“A True American Delicatessen.”

Pittsburgh is a veritable melting pot of ethnic foods, culture, music, and people in general. We have come up with this menu to represent the early ethnicity of our city's people. Our Jewish folk are most often considered to be the pioneers of the “delicatessen” and it has become a very popular venue for food. We started with their deli concept and morphed it into what we like to think of as the “true American delicatessen.”
